

My Best Days

Words by Mary Michelle Brown and Henry Salomon
Music by Loren Jay Gough and John R. Lange (c) 2014

Unpacking boxes and thinking 'bout options
Needing to find peace of mind

Sometimes it takes distance to break down resistance
In making a simpler life

I'm heeding the call to a place I belong
In this storybook town I'll call home

Leaving this old life it's time for a new life
What's possible in this new town?

CHORUS –

And I... know my best days are standing in front of me now
And I... know my best days are standing in front of me now

Walking down Main Street I see where the folks meet
And tell stories of days gone by

I bet they have drive-ins and Friday night dancin'
And fireworks under the stars

I'm finding that breathing is once again easy
Since breaking the chains that bind

Now I've got this feeling this place will be healing
I know things will turn out just fine

CHORUS

Bridge (the phonecall):

"Hey – You make it ok?"

"Yeah, I did. And it's better than I imagined it would be"

"So now what?"

"Guess its time I jump in with both feet."

CHORUS
